In 500 words or less, please describe why this person deserve recognition for the "Spirit of BG" Award:

Georgeana fosters community and creates encouragement at Bowling Green State University through her work at any opportunity she gets. She works tirelessly every day to ensure that students are supported and growing within their goals in any way she can. She makes time for student meetings to not only complete the finance and purchasing tasks they need help with, but to also ensure that students have an understanding of the process and feel supported. She is always willing to learn and try new things to support students and directly aligns with Bowling Green State University's mission to enhance the lives of our students. In addition to her constant concern for students, she also contributes to the office's overall goals in any way she can, even if it may be outside of the traditional realm of her accounting specialist role. She is always quick to volunteer her time and support at major events, even if it is as mundane as facilitating a game or passing out information. Georgeana shows up each day with a smile and a laugh that creates community wherever she goes. She makes her decisions not through just her own viewpoint, but through a lens that aims to support those around her and the institution as a whole. She truly embodies the spirit of BG in so many ways and is integral to the success of our office.
